

Intent and Purpose of this APR+M Panel Presentation

(For candidate who does not hold the APR designation)

To be read by panel chair at the beginning of each candidate's review:

The award of APR+M is designed to improve the profession of military public affairs, encourage ongoing professional development, and establish a standard of knowledge consistency within the joint public affairs community. It signifies a professional level of experience and competence within the public relations industry as a whole, coupled with a uniquely qualified understanding of public affairs activities in joint military operations.

The Panel Presentation is the first step in a two-step process to earn the Accreditation in Public Relations plus Military Communication. It is a gateway to the computer-based Examination.

The intent and purpose of the Panel Presentation is:

- to evaluate a candidate's knowledge skills and abilities in 12 specific areas of public relations competency that cannot be effectively judged on the computer-based Examination.
- to evaluate a candidate's knowledge, skills and abilities in Joint Military Public Affairs that are not tested on the computer-based Examination.

The intended result of the APR+M Panel Presentation is that each candidate will earn an Advance or Not Advance assessment that will recommend the Universal Accreditation Board (UAB) either accept or decline the candidate's request for admission to the computer-based Examination at this time.*

Note: It is possible that candidates for the APR+M demonstrate the appropriate proficiency with the public relations KSAs, but lack full knowledge and experience for qualification in Military Communication. Therefore, the APR+M Panel will also recommend whether the candidate advances as an APR without the +M certification

*The final decision on whether or not to advance a candidate rests with the Universal Accreditation Board.

Candidates whose sole UAB participating organization (PO) is the Department of Defense (non-members) will need to join one UAB Participating Organization (ARPPR, CAPIO, FPRA, MPRC, NAGC, NSPRA, PRSA, RCC, SPRF) before officially receiving the APR credential.

Areas of Competency Assessed by the Panel Presentation Process

Since this candidate does not hold an APR designation, the Panel will be responsible for evaluating candidates' competency in 12 specific areas that cannot effectively be judged in the computer-based Examination environment:

1. Creative conceptualization/creativity: Uses imagination to develop new insights into or responses to a public relations issue. Develops innovative solutions to the issue or problems posed. Devises new methods/processes or adapts existing ones when the standard methods and processes are not applicable.
2. Initiative: Displays courage in suggesting new ideas and justifying them to clients/employers.
3. Interpersonal skills: Relates empathetically to other individuals in order to understand their concerns or needs. Influences another's decision or behavior. Displays confidence when interacting with others.
4. Management skills: Develops expertise in planning, organizing, budgeting, communicating, coordinating, scheduling, monitoring and evaluating.
5. Multi-tasking: Effectively and efficiently manages numerous projects and responsibilities simultaneously. Applies prioritization and tracks progress toward completion of tasks.
6. Flexibility: Responds to the changing business, social and cultural landscape.
7. Time management: Prioritizes and sequences tasks to meet goals and deadlines.

Instructions: Without discussion with your colleagues on the Panel Presentation, assess the candidate you have just examined on each of the criteria below on a scale of “0” to “3.”

- 0 = the candidate was unable to demonstrate any knowledge, skills or abilities in the rated areas;
- 1 = the candidate demonstrates a very weak level of knowledge skills and abilities in the rated area;
- 2 = the candidate shows acceptable knowledge, skills and abilities in the rated area;
- 3 = the candidate demonstrates exceptional knowledge, skills and abilities in the rated area.

If the candidate has earned a “Not Advance” assessment (fewer than 52 points total or an assessment of 0 in any knowledge, skills and abilities category), assign a “Not Advance” assessment and briefly list the reasons why you have done so the “Reasons for a Not Advance Recommendation” form (for example, a short set of bulleted items).

Give this completed form to your Panel Presentation chair.

If the candidate has earned a "Not Advance" assessment (fewer than 52 total or an assessment of 0 in any knowledge, skills and abilities category), assign a "Not Advance" assessment for the APR+M and briefly list the reasons why you have done so on the "Reasons for a Not Advance Recommendation" form for APR+M (e.g., a short set of bulleted items).

Give this completed form to your Panel Presentation chair.

If the candidate fails to meet the criteria above for advancing for the APR+M credential, the panel will review the scoring to see if the deficient items are confined to the areas of competence specific to military communication KSAs. If that is the case, the panel will tally scores for the 12 areas of competence for the standard APR, and assess as follows:

- If the candidate has earned an "Advance" assessment (24 points or more or showing no 0 in any APR knowledge, skills and abilities category), assign an "Advance" assessment and check the appropriate "Advance" recommendation for APR only on the "Summary of Candidate's Performance" form.
- If the candidate has earned a "Not Advance" assessment (fewer than 24 points total or an assessment of 0 in any APR knowledge, skills and abilities category), assign a "Not Advance" assessment, check the appropriate "Not Advance" recommendation and briefly list the reasons why you have done so on the "Summary of Candidate's Performance" form.
